THE HOSPITAL DRIVE STARTS ON AUGUST 4

Chairman Daly Calls All Workers to First Meeting When Work Will Start On Taking Subscriptions For Building Fund

IT IS HOPED TO GET $200,000

Most Important Gathering of the Hospital Building Fund Campaign Will Begin With Big Dinner to Be Served At Elks Club Monday Evening

The opening gun of the hospital campaign will be fired Monday evening, August 4 at 6 o'clock, when over 300 men and women comprising the volunteer workers will meet at the Elks Club for the first dinner meeting of the drive to get $150,000 for a new hospital building here.

General Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly gave out the announcement this morning at the hospital campaign headquarters in the Borough building that the evening of August 4 had been definitely settled on to open the campaign as the executive committee expected to have its work complete by that time and that many dangers awaited the campaign if the opening were delayed beyond that date.

The meeting will start at 6 with dinner and will end about 8:30.

The meeting is important as all instructions will be given to the solicitors regarding the work they are to do for the week of the drive.

All men and women who have agreed to help on the campaign are expected to be at the Elks Club promptly at 6. It was pointed out that all the meetings will start promptly on time.

"The importance of everyone setting aside time for this meeting cannot be too much emphasized," declared Chairman Daly," and it is very necessary for everyone of the workers who expects to help in the campaign be present at this meeting so that he can get the instructions as to know how to work intelligently and in cooperation with the plan which we are sure is going to win the campaign if every worker does his share."

Chairman S. L. Woodward of the fraternal societies and clubs reported that the Knights of Malta and the Russian society had each made a subscription to the hospital building fund. Other organizations including the Council of Jewish Women, Eastern Star, B. P. O. E., L. O. O. M., Independent Order of Eagles and in all about 85 societies are expected to make liberal subscriptions.

Mrs. J. L. Roberts, chairman of the committee on endorsements has received endorsements for hospital project from the Charleroi Ministerial association as a result of a meeting held Monday evening, July 28. Rev. Sidney H. Dixon, secretary of the association, writes that the following resolution was passed unanimously: "Our attention having been called to the movement for a new hospital in Charleroi, we, the Ministerial association of Charleroi, record it as our opinion that a larger and more adequate hospital is needed in this community."

The executive committee meeting yesterday was enthusiastic and Sales Manager J. B. Tussing presided at the meeting in the absence of General Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly, who was out of the city.

Manager Tussing told the committee that if the campaign now under way to secure a building fund for a new hospital failed, that we would end by having no hospital at all as the state would condemn the present building and it would have to be closed as it is beyond repair. Manager Tussing is a director of the hospital and speaks from the first hand knowledge.

He went on to emphasize that success on the other hand meant not only getting a new and modern hospital, a thing much needed in this community but it also meant that for another time in the history of Charleroi, the civic spirit moved the business men and citizens generally to make history repeat itself and crown this undertaking with success of the same glory that this community has achieved in all worthy community movements.

"Charleroi has never failed in doing her duty," declared Manager Tussing. "For one, I do not believe she will fail in getting this hospital. The fact that this hospital proposition is clearly a community proposition, and represents an obligation resting squarely on the shoulders of every resident and every business man in this locality, guarantees the success of the undertaking as soon as our people realize that the hospital will never be secured until they have subscribed to the limit and worked hard to help raise the money for a building fund.

"Progress so far is commendable," continued Manager Tussing. "Many of us are pleased with the results thus far attained. I know Chairman Daly feels that way and personally I feel we have made noteworthy headway; but the campaign is a long way from being won. We have barely started. Success means lots of time on the part of the committee and the workers; and lots of hard work. If any worker thinks that he or she can shirk their share of responsibility and work, that is the link that breaks the chain."

"The quicker every member connected with this organization realizes his or her personal responsibility and realizes that success in the campaign cannot come until everyone who has been counted on for liberal subscriptions and for time and hard work to see the people of the town, the quicker this movement to get a hospital building fund will be crowned with success."

Michael Rosenbloom, also a director of the hospital and an active member of the campaign executive committee, declared that the people most able to give liberally were the ones who must shoulder the responsibility of subscribing large amounts to be paid over five years, the time allowed for payment of large subscriptions. He declared that those of our citizens who are working on salaries will be governed largely in the subscriptions they make by the amounts subscribed by the business men, the ones who are best in a position to subscribe liberally.

"This campaign cannot be won with small subscriptions from the business men," declared Mr. Rosenbloom. "It is exceedingly imperative that business and professional men able to subscribe large amounts, realize their full duty to this community and to this project and obligate themselves by mortgaging their future and agreeing to pay a small percentage of the profits they will make from their business during the next five years to the building fund for a modern fireproof hospital. The wisest business men in Charleroi are the men who invest heaviest in this hospital. It will be the best investment they can make."

Demand For Lower Freight Rates Made

Pittsburgh, July 31. — A demand for lower freight rates on iron and steel shipped from Pittsburgh to New York for export was demanded today by a committee representing Carnegie Steel Company, Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation and other steel interests of Pittsburgh.

The committee went into conference with the joint executive traffic commission of the railroads, declaring that if Pittsburgh is to continue competing with iron and steel industries of England, France and Germany, a considerable reduction in rates will be necessary. It was pointed out that much steel is moving into this country from Europe.

The steel companies demand a reduction of 11 cents per hundred pounds.

FAILED TO COMPLY WITH ORDER; FINED

Milk Dealers Assessed $10 And Costs Each For Not Taking Out Permit Which Is Granted Gratuitously to Them

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDES

Cows Must Be Tubercular Tested—Half of Number Shot Last Year, But This Only 15 In 1,000 Are Found Infected —Council Within Province

Ten milk dealers of Monessen and vicinity were haled before Justice J. B. White of Monessen yesterday and fined $10 and costs each for disregarding an ordinance passed by the city council last year regulating the sale of milk in Monessen. One of the accused was assessed additional by the mayor for selling skimmed milk.

The ordinance in question provided that all cows must be tubercular tested in compliance with state laws. Last year 1,000 cows were tubercular tested, and of the number 500 were found infected, and were shot. This year the same number, or approximately the same were examined and 15 cows were found infected. The city council obligated the dealers to take out permits to sell in Monessen, without cost to the owners; but this year ten dealers disregarded the ordinance. One of the men last year took the matter to the courts, averring that the city was not within its province or rights in obligating the dealers to take out permits, but the court returned a decision sustaining the order of the city council. The men fined yesterday later took out permits. Charges against them were made by F. E. Gibson, health officer.

FIRE LADDIES SAVE FURNITURE TRUCK TODAY

The fire department answered a call to McKean avenue and Third street, shortly after 1 o'clock today, and through its efforts, saved the large truck of the Southern Furniture Company from probable destruction. [illegible] the car at the time, had stopped at the garage for gasoline, and neglected to shut off the motor. Thinking the tank almost empty, Mr. Lichter asked for five gallons. A large quantity of gas still remained in the tank and when the mechanic pumped in additional fluid, it overflowed. Running over the heated engine, ignition occurred. The fire was extinguished shortly after the arrival of the local department. The truck was slightly damaged.

"Their Honor, the Mayor," Is A Treat For The Chautauqua Audience

The $3,000 prize comedy-drama, "Their Honor, the Mayor," threw a large audience into convulsions of merriment at the Chautauqua tent last night when the Independent Women's league ran Mrs. Cochrane against her husband, and put the Cochrane household in such a state that it took the final act to get it back to normalcy.

The first act ends with the election in progress. The radio set into which Mrs. Cochrane broadcasts her acceptance speech, prepared by her woman campaign manager, is one of the most realistic up-to-date stage effects possible to devise. The swaying returns and the final tie vote that gives the town two mayors, supplies plenty of thrill. There is a love story running through the play with a young reporter and the mayor's daughter as active pricipals.

The company was adequate with two exceptionally clever character actresses in the lady campaign manager and the maid-of-all-work.

A large crowd of Chautauqua goers will hear Miss Louise Stallings at the Chautauqua tent tonight. The Wilmington Star in writing of Miss Stallings appearance at Wilmington, says:

"Never before has a chautauqua presented such a musical program in Wilmington as was listened to and applauded to the echo at the big tent on the Gypsy Smith tabernacle lot last night by perhaps the largest audience that has attended the entertainments to date. It was such a concert as would have won favor had it been given in New York city."

Miss Louise Stallings, a young woman of magnificent personality and great personal magnetism with features and speaking voice that suggest Latin derivative, has a lyric soprano voice of great range, power and control that was at its best, possible in the daintiest passages of the love songs she sings from the French.

William Durieux, the cellist, and Miss Marion Oarley, the accompanist and piano soloist, share honors with the vocalist, each playing solos that make recalls numerous. Each is an artist of unusual ability.

QUICK BRAIN WORK THWARTS WOULDBE ROBBERS

East Orange, N. J., July 31.—Quick thinking and steady aim by a postoffice employe prevented a $50,000 mail robbery here today.

One of the two bandits attempted the robbery in the Lackawanna station was shot and killed by Eugene Stack, the postal employe, during a battle on the station platform.

Stack himself was struck twice by bullets.

The second bandit escaped.

Five pouches containing about $50,000 in registered mail and money orders were on the platform as the gunmen approached. A sixth bag, filled with federal reserve currency from New York, which ordinarily is with the other five, did not arrive today.

Stack approached the upper postoffice platform to await arrival of a mail train from New York at 4:48 a. m. He was reading a newspaper as the bandits came up from the other end of the station.

Without warning one of the men drew an automatic pistol and opened fire on the postal man and a negro helper nearby. The negro fled, but Stack, although hit in the leg, drew his own heavy calibre service pistol and poured six shots at the bandits. One of the men was shot through the chest and killed. The other ran down a stairway and escaped.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY ADMISSIBLE; MAY SAVE BOYS' NECKS

Criminal Court Room, Chicago, July 31.—Legal authorities today forecast the escape of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb from the noose for the slaying of Robert Franks. This forecast was based on the tentative ruling of Chief Justice John R. Caverly which favors the defense contention that its medical testimony is admissable.

Justice Caverly ruled with the defense that when the state objected to the introduction of medical testimony to show "mitigating evidence," state's attorney Robert E. Crowe, determined to protect his perfect hanging case, insisted on showing the court rulings against admission of the medical testimony and for several hours yesterday his assistants poured out a veritable shower of precedents.

The state today still had scores of rulings to present and today's session may be devoted entirely to arguments. Justice Caverly is growing impatient and there is a possibility he will put a stop to the state and order the defense to go ahead with its medical testimony.

FRANCE'S PROPOSALS CONSIDERED A JOKE

London, July 31—Frank amusement was expressed today by a majority of the delegates who are engaged in considering reparations proposals also presented by France to the inter-allied conference.

The French formula—offered to end the deadlock—bristles with difficult and detailed technical ties and is anything but a clear statement of that country's position.

All the delegations except the French and the Belgians, who presumably agreed upon the proposals, were surprised, and many conferees expressed fear that the elaborate technicalities conceal a possible course under which France could embark alone on another Ruhr adventure.

This it is agreed, especially by the Anglo-American banking group, would frustrate German and world rehabilitation, which must be based upon sincere effectuation of the experts' plan.

The French plan filled four long pages of foolscap. Premier Herriot had interposed objections to successive formula offered by Britain, United States, and Belgium, and much had been expected of him when it was announced the French would present their own plan.

The conference has been deadlocked for 12 days over the subject of who shall decide whether Germany defaults in payments under the Dawes-McKenna plan, and what shall be done about it.

France proposes that if the reparations commission doesn't agree unanimously, there shall be appeal to a second arbitration body.

But though the midnight oil was burnt in many a delegate's room throughout the night, the conferees were frank to say they were not sure from the craft just what France had in mind. They are looking for the "joker."

Counter-acting this skepticism in the staunch insistence of the Anglo-American leaders that the conference—the 15th since Versailles—must succeed and that Herriot, a consistent proponent of a European [illegible] is willing to accept certain [illegible] in the [illegible] formula.

Pirates Continue Drive Toward Pennant By Beating The Giants

Bill McKechnie's Buccos yesterday opened their mid-summer invasion of the Polo Grounds by taking the Giants over 6 to 3 and increasing their winning streak to six straight. They were outbatted, but by taking advantage of all good opportunities and fighting desperately came out in front.

Earl Smith got into an argument with Umpire Bob Hart in the last of the eiyhth inning and was put out of the game. Johnny Gooch. who replaced him, drove in a run in the last chapter with a beautiful three-base wallop that would have brought a home run to a faster sprinter.

The penalizing of Smith came when Wilbur Cooper to all appearances, had hooked the third strike over on Kelly and ended the inning. When Hart declared it a ball, the Pirate Robert he was wrong. Earl was at once banished and the fans booed long and loud. Cooper also protested as did McKechnie, but Smith had to go and the contest proceeded.

The Big Store's August Furniture Sale

An Education and an Opportunity

NOTHING unless it is architecture, so reflects the spirit of an age and a people as does its furniture. In Kaufmann's August Furniture Sale you have an unequalled opportunity to study reproductions of furniture from the greatest periods of the past, and to note how our modern designers adapt these to present-day needs, even improving on the originals at times.

Why Good Furniture?

Now and then, perhaps, you wonder why there is such an eternal clamor about good furniture. The horrible examples of "plush" pieces which we used to see in American parlors a decade or two ago answered their utilitarian purposes well enough. But "man cannot live by bread alone." He must have spiritual food—and beauty is such, for it lifts the heart and makes living a joy. Let the man who would be happy surround himself with beauty; let him seek beauty in all the highways and byways of his life. This is a law of life, because it is one of life's great truths. So, furniture, because we must live with it day after day and year after year, must be beautiful.

What is Period Furniture?

Furniture is classified in two ways, by period, and by the name of the designer. Jacobean, for example, applies to the work produced during the reign of James I (Latin: Jacobus) and Charles I and extends into the time of Cromwell and Charles II. Hepplewhite is a fine example of the second method of classification. One of the master furniture designers of all time, a "school" formed about him, so that we had many pieces in the Hepplewhite manner and called Hepplewhite furniture, which were not actually his work. Often periods overlap, so that a chair or table classified as Queene Anne may have details about it which are characteristic of the William and Mary period.

It is the easily traceable result of a broad idea of community service that has constantly builded this community until it has reached its present stage of development. Concerned with the welfare of the masses, fostered by their good will, and pledged to greater effort on their behalf, that spirit has entered into the new sphere of wide influence and usefulness by assuming at this time the responsibility of financing a modernly equipped fireproof hospital. That this undertaking will be a success under the united efforts of the community goes without saying, as the hospital is not only for the present but for the years to come. A hospital will benefit a great many, cause them happiness and spare them for continued and greater usefulness in the community through the service which it will be possible for this hospital to render in emergencies of sickness and injury.

The state health authorities have this to say about our hospital: "The Charleroi-Monessen Hospital is a small hospital in a frame house, overcrowded and understaffed. It is entirely unfit for hospital purposes. In our opinion there is nothing to commend it. The facilities offered by the hospital are inadequate to the needs of Charleroi."

A lot of hospitals in this part of the state are listed and rated in the state's report, and OUR hospital is the ONLY ONE RATED POOR!

Does not that give your pride an incentive to help get a new hospital building?

Our hospital is so obsolete, so small, in such poor condition, so overcrowded, and such a dangerous fire hazard that the state authorities have given the people of this community an opportunity to get money with which to build a modern hospital. The hospital we have will be condemned, and we will be without any hospital at all, unless we raise this building fund.

Does any business man think that would be good advertising? Does any business man think that kind of advertising would help his business? Will not any advertising that hurts Charleroi, injure Charleroi business?

This community has needed a hospital for years and years. It needs one now worse than ever, because our hospital, instead of improving with other progressive developments in our community, has grown worse and worse, has become more delapidated, more hazardous and greatly less able to render the service in sickness and accidents that a hospital in this community should give.

All this has made every red blooded citizen, every man and woman with a heart, every business man with a vision, every doctor with ambition, every human with loved ones, to want Charleroi to get a new hospital.

For years we have wanted this new hospital—but we have done nothing else but want it. It is not the hospital's fault that we do not have a large fireproof building. The fault is with the citizens, business and professional interests of this community.

The time to dream is past; the time for action is here!

Wishing will not get this new hospital—if we need it, if we want it, let's have it! And there is only one way to get it—give to the limit and work hard for it!

The time to start is today. Tomorrow may be too late.

Other cities less favorably located than Charleroi, and less able, with less to build on for the future, have erected modern hospitals and their praise is heard throughout this and adjoining states.

Let's see to it now, men and women of Charleroi, that the same thing is said of Charleroi a year and a half from now. Every business man, every professional man and every resident who has his own welfare at heart and who has any pride at all in seeing his home town prosper and grow, should make a subscription to this hospital building fund for as much as he can pay for from the profits of his business during the next five years. It is a matter of—

HELP THE FIREMEN.

North Charleroi Borough firemen inaugurate a bazaar on Coyle's field this evening, the proceeds accruing to be devoted to liquidating indebtedness on their new truck. It is the province and the duty of the citizenry of the borough to the north of us to show their appreciation of the firemen of North Charleroi in substantial approbation.

North Charleroi is keeping abreast of other places of its proportions in civic improvement and advancement; in fact, it is growing greater in the things which prove elemental greatness than nearly any borough of its size in the state. There are signs of activity on every hand; the sound of the hammer and the saw demonstrates the activity in building progress; the streets are being improved, and an improved sewage system is a future outlook.

Obsessed with the growth of the town and its prospects, realizing that the fire equipment of the borough was inadequate to meet demands, the firemen of North Charleroi took it upon themselves to improve the fire-fighting facilities of the burg by the acquisition of a fine new fire truck. They assumed the responsibility of its purchase of their own volition, and have solicited very little, if any, financial aid to pay for the truck. Now, the people of North Charleroi, have the opportunity to show their appreciation, not in gratuitous gifts, but in attending a bazaar where for every dollar expended they will receive greater recompense in pleasure than is represented in the coin of the realm expended.

As North Charleroi is really "one of us," it will be the patriotic thing for the citizenry of the borough of Charleroi to "help the North Charleroi borough firemen out," inasmuch as they have ever been liberal supporters of functions here to advance any movement which would mean public or personal welfare.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Missouri.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken twelve bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. Beauchamp, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

TOM MIX AT THE MAJESTIC

Those who recall Tom Mix in his uproariously funny comedy picture "Soft Boiled," will welcome the news that this athletic Fox star has made another funster. "Ladies to Board," which will open a two day engagement at the Majestic Theatre Friday and Saturday. His latest picture is from the pen of William Dudley Pelley and recites the experiences of a hard boiled cow puncher who inherits an old ladies home with all its attendant trials and fortunes—good and bad.

It seems that Tom, as Tom Faxton, with his friend Bunk McGinnis, his half pint pardner, decide to go to Boston to look over the bean foundries. Tom gets an opportunity to perform a little favor for a lady, one Anastasia McFirth, when he saves her from an omnivorous omnibus. Out of gratitude, a month later, when this old spinster passes away, she wills to the energetic Thomas the McFirth Sanatorium for Old Ladies. From then on things begin to happen fast and humorously and Tom, Bunk and Tony Mix ride through several reels of what is heralded to be the best entertainment Mix has ever made.

Jack Blystone, the Fix comedy director, who held the megaphone when Mix made "Soft Boiled" was also at the helm in "Ladies to Board." Gertrude Olmsted, whose dramatic ability was proven in "Cameo Kirby," plays opposite Mix. Others in the cast are Phil McCullough, Pee Wee Holmes, Gertrude Claire and Fay Holderness.

In addition to "Ladies to Board," Billy Sullivan will be featured in the last chapter of "Fast Steppers," "Get-Way Dry." Also a good comedy.

Is Tongue Coated? Try Glycerine Mixture?

A badly coated tongue is a sure sign of stomach or bowel trouble. To overcome this and make the tongue clean, try simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lowel bowel, but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out all gasses and poisons. Helps any case gas on the stomach in TEN minutes. Piper's Pharmacy.

FIANCE OF MISS P. COOK SHOOTS SELF BY ACCIDENT

New York, July 31. — A welcome party for Miss Peggy Cook, 1424 Spruce street, Philadelphia, ended in tragedy early today when Harry Mack, 35, her fiance, shot and killed himself with a revolver he believed not to be loaded.

Miss Cook had arrived in New York for a two weeks vacation and Mack arranged a party in his apartment. Three other couples had joined in the evening's fun and departed for home. As Mack and the girl were leaving the apartment a revolver fell from the man's pocket. He removed the cartridges and jokingly clicked the weapon at Miss Cook, and then turned it toward himself. There was an explosion and Mack fell, shot through the head.

Police questioned Miss Cook and released her. The circumstances of the tragedy were clearly substantiated, they said.
